1. Debit Cards

This 'Debit Cards' section applies if your account can be accessed using a debit card.

1.1 Using the debit card

You can use the debit card to:

- make purchases at point of sale ('POS') terminals both in Australia and overseas where you see the relevant card scheme logo displayed. Some retailers also allow cash withdrawals to be made at the POS;
- shop for goods and services over the phone or online with merchants who accept the debit card;
- withdraw cash in Australia and overseas at an automatic teller machine ('ATM') where you see the relevant card scheme logo displayed.

A foreign exchange is likely to take place when the currency of the transaction (the transaction currency) is different to the currency of the account (the account currency). The conversion will be performed by the relevant card scheme using their own relevant foreign exchange rate for that currency on the date the currency conversion is performed.

If you are using a Citi Global Currency Account, Citibank Plus Transaction Account or a Cash Investment Account and have the Citi Smart Wallet feature activated, the foreign exchange may be avoided. For more details on the Citi Smart Wallet feature, please visit citibank.com.au.

Examples where a foreign exchange will take place include:

- withdrawing cash from an ATM located in New Zealand in New Zealand dollars (NZD) from an Australian dollar account; or
- making a purchase online in United States dollars (USD) from a Japanese Yen (JPY) currency account.

Where a transaction is made on your account using a debit card, subject to any other provisions of these terms and conditions, you are liable for the transaction. We will charge your account with the transaction amount and, where applicable, with any fees or charges which may apply to that transaction. Please refer to your Account Terms and Fee Schedule for further details.

The use of the debit card is subject to the Account Terms. Use of the debit card includes using any of the details on it (such as the debit card number and expiry date).

You are responsible for any Additional Cardholder's use of your account and the debit card and you need to ensure that each Additional Cardholder complies with these terms and conditions as if they were you. To the extent that these terms and conditions relate to the use or security of a debit card, device or security code, references to 'you' mean you and any Additional Cardholder.

The debit card and any security code or PIN relating to that debit card must not be used:

- by any person other than the cardholder whose name and signature appears on the debit card;
- after the debit card has expired, or has been suspended or cancelled;
- where your account requires more than one signatory to operate the account; or
- during any period when the account has been suspended or after the account has been closed.

All debit cards remain our property. You and any Additional Cardholder must securely destroy any physical debit card:

- at our request; or
- when all of the accounts to which the debit card is linked are closed; or
- when the debit card is cancelled or has expired; or
- when the cardholder's Authority to Operate all of the accounts to which the debit card is linked is terminated; or
- when you notify us that at least two signatories are required to operate the account.

1.2 Daily withdrawal and other limits

Your daily withdrawal limit is the maximum amount you can withdraw each day and applies to all accounts which are linked to a debit card. The daily withdrawal limit is a combined limit and applies to all cash withdrawals through ATMs and some purchases at POS terminals (when you press the chq/sav buttons). It may also apply to contactless transactions, depending upon the merchant.

These daily withdrawal limits do not apply to transactions through a card scheme (made when you press the 'CR' or 'Credit' button).

The daily limits can be found at citibank.com.au/dailylimits.

The daily limits are expressed in Australian dollars. If you transact in a foreign currency, the limit that applies will be the Australian dollar equivalent of that foreign currency amount.

1.2.1 Changes can be made to the daily limits

You can make a request to change your daily withdrawal limit by calling the Customer Service Centre team. If we agree to that request, the daily withdrawal limit that applies to the accounts which can be linked to the debit card will be the limit that we agree with you.

We can also make changes to the daily withdrawal limit. See section 8.4 'Changes to these terms and conditions' for further information about when we can do this and how we will notify you.

If you increase your daily withdrawal limit, this will also increase your risk that an unauthorised person may make larger withdrawals on the account.

Please note that merchants or other providers of facilities may impose additional limits.

1.3 Disputing a debit card transaction and chargebacks

You should regularly check the transactions on your account. You can do this using our digital services or by checking your statement.

If there is a transaction that you did not authorise or you want to query, you should complete the Disputes Form which can be found on our website citibank.com.au or call the Customer Service Centre team as soon as possible. If you delay telling us, then we may not be able to dispute the transaction on your behalf. You can reach the Customer Service Centre team on: on: 13 24 84 (within Australia); or +61 2 8225 0615 (from outside Australia)

In some circumstances the card scheme rules may allow us to claim a chargeback from the merchant for a transaction. You will need to give us the information and material we require to support a chargeback.

If, within the time limit set by the card scheme rules, you tell us that you want to dispute a transaction on the debit card, then we:

- will claim the relevant amount back if we find it has been incorrectly charged and you have not contributed to the loss; or
- may accept the merchant's refusal to make that chargeback only if the refusal is made in a way allowed under the relevant card's scheme rules.

Where your request for a chargeback is not settled to your satisfaction, we will tell you the procedures for the investigation and resolution of the dispute.

1.4 Cancelling a debit card

1.4.1 Your right to cancel a debit card

You can cancel a debit card at any time by calling the Customer Service Centre team. It may take time for us to process the cancellation and it will only take effect once it is processed by us. Subject to these terms and conditions, you are responsible for all transactions or other purchases made on the account using a debit card until the debit card has been cancelled.

For further details about cancelling the debit card and the amounts which are payable prior to cancellation, please refer to your Account Terms.

1.4.2 Our right to cancel a debit card by giving you notice

We may, acting reasonably, suspend or cancel a debit card at any time by providing you with 30 days' prior notice.

1.4.3 Our right to cancel a debit card without prior notice

In some circumstances, we may also cancel a debit card at any time, without prior notice where we, acting fairly and reasonably towards you, reasonably believe or suspect any of the following:

- circumstances beyond our control mean that we could not meet our obligations under these terms and conditions;
- we should do so to ensure we comply with any law, rule, regulation, judgment order or directive of any government;
- the debit card, security code or a process intended to prevent unauthorised transactions has been compromised or there are other security reasons for doing so;
- you have, or may be, involved in a fraudulent or other unlawful activity or transaction; or
- it is otherwise reasonably necessary or appropriate to manage our legal, credit or reputational risk or to prevent losses.

If we do not give you notice before we do any of these things, we will notify you as soon as possible afterwards. In all cases where we cancel a debit card, we will act fairly and reasonably towards you.

2. Digital services and Citiphone

2.1 Getting started

There are two digital services which you can use to access and operate your account - Citi Online and the Citi Mobile App.

You may have already registered for our digital services when you opened your account. However, if you have not already done so, you can register for Citi Online, by going to citibank.com.au/register or you can register for the Citi Mobile App by downloading the app and following the prompts.

You will need the following information to complete the registration process:

- your debit card details or internet access number ('IAN');
- your account number; and
- a One Time PIN ('OTP').

Once you have completed the registration process, you will be able to access the digital service that you have registered for using your personalised user ID together with a security code and any other information which we require.

2.2 Getting started with Citiphone

Limited transaction services are also available through Citiphone. You can register by calling Citiphone and following the prompts.

When accessing Citiphone for the first time, you will need the following information to complete the registration process:

- your debit card or account details (as applicable); and
- your TPIN. You can set up a TPIN by calling Citiphone and following the prompts.

Once you have completed the registration process, you will be able to access Citiphone using your mobile phone number together with your TPIN or any other information which we require.

2.3 One Time PIN ('OTP')

The OTP is a unique, randomly generated, single use code. The OTP will be typically be sent to you via SMS to your nominated mobile phone number.

You'll need to enter this OTP when you want to perform certain transactions or queries using our digital services or Citiphone.

2.4 Access by an authorised signatory

Where the Account Terms permit an authorised signatory on your account, we may issue that authorised signatory with:

- security codes and/or devices to use our digital services and Citiphone; and
- access to your account details.

Where an authorised signatory is added to your account:

- you are responsible for the authorised signatory's use of your account and any debit card, security codes or devices which may be issued to them by us (as applicable) (including all transactions made by them); and
- you need to ensure that the authorised signatory complies with these terms and conditions and any other terms and conditions which apply in relation to debit cards, security codes and devices (as applicable) as if they were you.

To the extent that these terms and conditions refer to the use of a facility or the security of a debit card, device or security code, references to 'you' mean you and any authorised signatory.

2.5 Using our digital services and Citiphone

*We may limit the countries to which you can transfer money. Please visit citibank.com.au/deposits-transfers for information on which countries are available.

Information available through our digital services and Citiphone in relation to transactions and balances may not always be up to date. It will usually record the transactions and available balances up to the close of business on the previous business day, but it may show the effect of some transactions which have occurred since that business day.

Information shown or provided through our digital services and Citiphone at a particular time may be adjusted after that time to reflect the position between you and us, for example where we need to rectify a processing error, make adjustments for transactions made on non-business days or because a payment has been dishonoured.

2.6 Proprietary rights and third party information

All proprietary rights (including without limitation title, patent rights and copyright) in our digital services (including the Citi Online internet site and the Citi Mobile App) shall at all times vest and remain vested in us.

Where we provide you with any information we obtain from a third party as part of our digital services or Citiphone, we do not warrant the accuracy or completeness of that third party information.

3. Transfers and payments

3.1 Setting up new payees

Depending on what account you have with us, you can transfer money from your account to another bank account in Australia or overseas. Please refer to your Account Terms for further information.

If you want to transfer money from your account to someone for the first time, you will need to set them up as a new payee using our digital services. This cannot be done using Citiphone.

Once that set up process is complete, you will be required to activate the payee by using an Online Authorisation Code (OAC). The OAC will typically be sent to you by SMS to your registered mobile phone number. You can also call the Customer Service Centre team who can assist you to activate the new payee.

3.1.1 Setting up and using PayID

A PayID is a unique identifier or alias you choose which can be linked to your eligible account so you can receive payments from Australian financial institutions that subscribe to the PayID Service. The PayID Service is a central payment addressing service which can be used for addressing payments cleared and settled via the New Payments Platform operated by NPP Australia Limited (NPP payments).

You may create a PayID as long as it is a supported PayID Type. You can create more than one PayID for an account provided each PayID is unique. However, each PayID can only be linked to one eligible account. If your account is a joint account, you and each joint account holder can create your own PayID for that account. An authorised signatory for your account can have a PayID linked to your account.

Depending on the policy of a payer's financial institution, your PayID Name may be displayed to payers who send NPP payments to you. At the same time you create your PayID, we will display the assigned PayID name.

You must satisfy us that you own and are authorised to use any PayID you have chosen before you can use it to receive payments. We will do this by sending you an OAC. If you are creating a PayID using your registered mobile, we will send the OAC via SMS. If you are creating a PayID using an email address, we will send the OAC to you by email. You will need the OAC to complete the registration process.

To see if your account is eligible to receive payments using PayID visit citibank.com.au. You do not have to have a PayID for an eligible account if you choose not to.

Once you have created a PayID, when you would like someone to make a payment to your account you can provide them with your PayID rather than providing them with your BSB and account details. After your PayID is linked to your account, it may not be used in relation to any other account with us or any other financial institution. See section 3.1.3 for details on transferring PayIDs.

The PayID Service does not support duplicate PayIDs. A PayID can only be registered with a single participating financial institution and linked to one account at a time. You can contact us to discuss duplicate PayIDs although we cannot disclose details of any personal information in connection with duplicate PayIDs.

If you are eligible to make payments to a PayID from your account, you may also make payments to another person who has a PayID. Payments to a PayID count towards your daily transfer limit. For details about our daily transfer limits, see 'Daily transfer limits that apply' in section 3.4.1 of these terms and conditions below.

Your PayID (and the details linked to it) are held in a central register by NPP Australia Limited that will be accessible to participating financial institutions.

3.1.2 Creating and managing your PayID

The easiest way to create a PayID is by using our digital services at citibank.com.au.

You must keep your PayID details up to date at all times. Contact us using our digital services if you would like us to:

- change your PayID or the account linked to your PayID; or
- update your PayID details.

You must notify us immediately if:

- your PayID details change; or
- you are no longer authorised to use your PayID or the account linked to your PayID

3.1.3 Transferring your existing PayID

If you would like to transfer an existing PayID you have with another financial institution to us, you will need to:

- ask the financial institution where your PayID is currently registered to transfer your PayID to us; and
- then set up the PayID with us.

If you would like to ask us to transfer your PayID to another financial institution, we can do this if you submit a request through our digital services or by calling Citiphone.

If you would like to update the account linked to your PayID, we can do this if you submit a request through our digital services or by calling Citiphone. The transfer of your PayID to another account you have with us will generally be completed upon request but in some instances it may take place within 24 hours upon receiving your request to do so.

We will action a request to transfer your PayID to an account with another financial institution within 24 hours upon receiving your request to do so, however, the transfer will not take place until the other financial institution has completed the transfer. Until the transfer is completed payments to your account will be made to us. If the other financial institution does not complete the transfer within 14 days, the transfer will not take place and your PayID will remain with your account with us.

3.1.4 Locking and closing your PayIDs

If you want to lock your PayID you can do so by calling Customer Service Centre team. You can unlock your PayID in the same way.

Whilst your PayID is locked, you will not be able to use it to receive payments, update it (unless you have requested to lock it) or transfer it to another financial institution. However payments can still be received to the account using the BSB and account details.

You may close your PayID by using our digital services or by calling Citiphone. We will usually close your PayID on request but in some instances it may take place within 24 hours of receiving your instructions to close it (unless otherwise agreed). When a PayID is closed, your details will be removed from the PayID Service and you will no longer be able to receive payments into your account using that PayID.

We may, acting reasonably, lock or close your PayID at any time. Some of the reasons we may do that include:

- we reasonably suspect that you or another person may have established, or used, the PayID as part of a fraudulent or other unlawful activity or that you may not have the right to use a PayID;
- the account which is linked to your PayID has been blocked or suspended;
- we reasonably believe that your PayID is being used in a way that may cause loss to you or us;
- we reasonably believe your PayID has become inactive;
- for security reasons; or
- we are notified of a change to your mobile phone number or email address used to create your PayID.

You must notify us immediately if you suspect any unauthorised use of your PayID.

If the account which is linked to your PayID is closed or you are no longer able to use our digital services (and your PayID has not been transferred to another financial institution) we may close your PayID. We will tell you if that happens.

3.1.5 PayID and privacy

People using your PayID can view your PayID and other information linked to it (such as your name, email address or mobile phone number). By creating your PayID you authorise:

- us to record and store your PayID, other information linked to your PayID and your account details in the PayID Service (PayID Information); and
- your PayID information to be disclosed to and used by:
 - participating financial institutions;
 - users of the PayID Service;
 - providers of the PayID payment facilities (such as NPP Australia Limited); and
 - their service providers, for the purposes of creating and sending NPP payment messages and you paying and receiving NPP payments.

3.1.6 Mistaken or misdirected payments

We will ensure that your PayID and account details are accurately recorded in the PayID Service.

Where we and the sending financial institution determine that a payment made into your account by using your PayID is either a Mistaken NPP Payment or a Misdirected Payment, we may, without your consent, and subject to complying with any other applicable terms and conditions, deduct from your account an amount up to the original amount of the Mistaken NPP Payment or Misdirected Payment. We will notify you if this occurs.

You are responsible for ensuring the payment details you give us are correct. If they are not you will be responsible for any loss you suffer, and may have to pay us for any loss we suffer, as a result of a payment being directed to the wrong account because of your error.

3.2 Electronic transfers to accounts within Australia

You can transfer money from your account to another bank account held with an Australian financial institution using our digital services, Citiphone or any other method that we let you know about from time to time.

This 'Electronic transfers to accounts within Australia' section sets out some information about various transfer options that may be available to you when transferring money within Australia.

3.2.1 Osko Payments

Osko is a service administered by BPAY® that facilitates payments between participating Australian financial institutions. Osko payments can be made at any time of the day and are usually sent in near real-time from your account to the payee's account.

However, Osko payments can only be made for current dated payments and where both your account and the payee's account are eligible to make and receive (as applicable) Osko payments. To find out if you are eligible to make Osko payments from your account, visit citibank.com.au.

Osko payments can be made using the payee's BSB and account details or by using the payee's PayID. When you initiate a transfer using a BSB and account details, we will send the payment via Osko. If we are unable to send the payment using Osko, we will let you know.

3.2.2 Standard funds transfers

A standard transfer is an electronic transfer to another Australian financial institutions using the recipient's BSB and account details. For further information regarding processing times, please see section 3.4.3 'When will the money typically be available?'.

3.2.3 Scheduled transfers/periodic payments

A scheduled transfer (also called a periodic payment) can be a one-off transfer that is scheduled to be made on a future date, or it may be a recurring instruction to transfer a specific dollar amount on a regular basis from your account to another bank account held with another Australian financial institution. It does not include a direct debit or direct credit arrangement or a recurring debit card instruction.

You can only make a scheduled transfer where the transaction currency and the account currency are the same.

You can set up a scheduled transfer if it is available on your account. You can do so by using our digital services or by completing a form. You cannot make a scheduled transfer using Citiphone.

In order to set up a scheduled transfer, you will need to tell us the BSB, account number and account name of the payee's account.

We will use reasonable endeavours to process a scheduled transfer on the day which has been nominated by you but, if the scheduled transfer is due to be made on a non-business day, we will usually process the transfer on the next business day.

You can cancel a scheduled transfer using our digital services, or you can call Citiphone. However, if you do not make the request to cancel the scheduled transfer at least 1 business day before the day on which the payment is due to be made, we may not be able to process that request and the payment may still be made.

Unless you cancel the scheduled transfer, transfers will continue to be made from your account in accordance with those instructions regardless of whether the account holder dies, becomes a bankrupt or goes into liquidation.

3.2.4 Direct debits and recurring debit card instructions

You can authorise another party to debit your account for payment of goods or services (for example, utility bills or insurance premiums) using your BSB and account number. This is called a direct debit arrangement.

You can also authorise another party to debit your account using the debit card number and expiry date. This is called a recurring debit card instruction.

In order to set up a direct debit arrangement or a recurring debit card instruction, the merchant or service provider will ask you to complete a direct debit authority form. The details of when the direct debit or recurring debit card instruction will be made to your account and the amount should be set out in that direct debit authority form.

If a direct debit or recurring debit card instruction has been made to your account which you have not authorised, let us know as soon as possible by calling the Customer Service Centre team and we will act promptly to assist you.

3.2.5 Cancelling a direct debit

You can ask us to cancel your direct debit request and we will promptly process your request. You can let us know by calling Citiphone and we will arrange to cancel the direct debit for you. Once the cancellation is complete, we will let you know. The process will typically take up to 5 business days.

Please note that direct debits will continue to be processed until the cancellation process is complete. As well as asking us to cancel the direct debit arrangement, we suggest that you also contact the merchant or service provider.

3.2.6 Cancelling recurring debit card instructions

If you have provided recurring debit card instructions to a merchant or service provider, you'll need to contact them to request a cancellation. We suggest that you do this at least 15 days prior to the next scheduled payment. Until you cancel your authority, the merchant is entitled to request us to debit your account.

Please retain a copy of your request to change or cancel any recurring debit card instructions with a merchant or service provider. You have the right to challenge a transaction if a merchant or a service provider has not acted in accordance with your instructions.

If the debit card number or expiry date has changed, for example as a result of your previous debit card being lost or stolen or your debit card otherwise being replaced, your debit card is cancelled or your account is closed, you should contact the merchant or service provider to cancel or change the details of your recurring debit card instructions.

You authorise us to, if we choose:

- provide your replacement debit card details to the merchant and/or the merchant's acquiring institution to update the recurring card instructions or tell the merchant and/or the merchant's acquiring institution that your debit card has been cancelled or the account has been closed; and/or

- where the debit card has been replaced, treat the recurring debit card instruction as applying to the new card number and/or expiry date (as the case may be). If we do that, your debit card account will continue to be debited in accordance with that instruction except that your new debit card details will be used (instead of the previous debit card details).

3.2.7 BPAY® payments

The BPAY® service is available through our digital services and Citiphone. Please refer to section 5 'BPAY' for further details.

3.3 Electronic transfers to accounts overseas

You can transfer money from your account to bank accounts held overseas using our digital services. Overseas transfers cannot be made using Citiphone.

3.3.1 Transfers by SWIFT/Telegraphic Transfer

To make a transfer via SWIFT (this is also called a telegraphic transfer) you will need the relevant SWIFT Bank Identification Code (BIC) as well as the account number or identifier for the payee. In certain circumstances, we may also use a correspondent bank or agent to assist us with completing your overseas transfer request. We may limit the countries to which you can transfer money. Please visit citibank.com.au/deposits-transfers for information on which countries are available.

You can make a SWIFT transfer up to the applicable daily transfer limit amount using our digital services. For transfers over the daily transfer limit, we will require written instructions. For more information on our limits, please visit citibank.com.au/dailylimits.

3.3.2 Scheduled transfers to bank accounts overseas

You can only make a transfer or payment to a bank account overseas which is scheduled to occur on a date in the future where the transaction currency and the account currency are the same.

Scheduled transfers can only be made using our digital services or by completing a form. You cannot make a scheduled transfer using Citiphone.

3.4 Other provisions relating to transfers and payments

It is important that you check the accuracy of the payee's details whenever you are transferring money. We do not confirm the account information or payment information provided to us and you may be liable for any payment made as a result of any incorrect information resulting in a mistaken payment. See 'Mistaken internet payments' below for further information.

3.4.1 Daily transfer limits that apply

We may impose a maximum daily amount that you may transfer from all the accounts you can access using our digital services and Citiphone. This is referred to as your 'daily transfer limit'. For further information on our limits, please visit citibank.com.au/dailylimits.

3.4.2 Processing transfers and payments from your account

We may decline any request to transfer or make payment from an account which exceeds the available balance of that account or any agreed line of credit. However, subject to your Account Terms, we may still, at our discretion, process this transaction. Doing this may cause your account to become overdrawn. This does not constitute our authorisation or agreement for the account to be overdrawn and you should refer to your Account Terms for further information regarding overdrawn accounts and any fees or charges which apply in relation to overdrawn amounts.

If more than one transfer or payment is due to be made on the same day, the order in which those transfers or payments are to be processed will be determined by us. When you transfer money or make a payment, we will charge your account with the amount of the transfer or payment and any related fees or charges.

3.4.3 When will the money typically be available?

The type of transfer or payment you make using our digital services or Citiphone (as applicable) have an impact on when the money is received by the payee.

| I am making a transfer or payment from my account... | The cut-off time for same day processing by us is...* | Money is typically available in the payee's account... |
|--|---|--|
| For transfers or payments within Australia | | |
| To another Citi branded account held with NAB | No cut-off times apply | Immediately |
| Standard transfer to another account with NAB or Australian financial institution | 4.00 pm on a business day Transfers or payments made after that time or on a non-business day will be processed on the next business day | The next business day after the transfer is processed |
| To another account held with NAB or another Australian financial institution using Osko payments | No cut-off times apply | Immediately |

| I am making a transfer or payment from my account... | The cut-off time for same day processing by us is...* | Money is typically available in the payee's account... |
|---|---|---|
| For transfers or payments to overseas accounts | | |
| To an account via SWIFT (telegraphic transfer) | 4.00 pm on a business day Transfers or payments made after that time or on a non-business day will be processed on the next business day | 1-7 business days after the transfer is processed (depending on the transaction currency) |

*Some transfer requests require additional verification and this may impact our ability to process these transfers on the same day.

3.4.4 Foreign exchange transactions, fees and charges

Where you are making a transfer from your account (other than a scheduled transfer) and the transfer currency is different to the account currency, then we will apply the current Citi Exchange Rate at the time of the transfer to calculate the amount that will be transferred in the transaction currency. For example, if you are using an Australian dollar account to transfer an amount into a United States dollar (USD) account, then we will apply the Citi Exchange Rate at the time of the transfer to calculate the USD amount that will be deposited into the payee's account.

For foreign exchange transactions performed via our digital services, we will give you details of the Citi Exchange Rate that will be applied, together with any other fees or charges that we apply, before the transfer is completed.

However, we will not be able to tell you what foreign exchange rates, fees or charges.

3.5 Mistaken internet payments

This 'Mistaken Internet Payments' section sets out how mistaken internet payments are dealt with under the ePayments Code. We will comply with these requirements as they relate to us.

Note: This 'Mistaken Internet Payments' section does not apply to BPAY® payments. Refer to the 'BPAY' section of these terms and conditions for further information.

A mistaken internet payment occurs when you enter or select incorrect details for the payee when you are using a 'Pay Anyone' digital services facility.

3.5.1 What to do if you make a mistaken internet payment

If you have made a mistaken internet payment through our digital services, we will be known as the 'sending institution'. If you are the recipient of a mistaken internet payment we are known as the 'receiving institution'.

Where a financial institution other than us is the sending or receiving institution, we cannot guarantee that it will follow the processes in the ePayments Code. For example, that institution may not be an authorised deposit taking institution for the purposes of the Banking Act 1959. We are also not responsible for any losses you suffer as a result of a failure of another financial institution to comply with the ePayments Code.

If you believe you have made a mistaken internet payment you must report it to us as soon as possible using the contact details set out in these terms and conditions. If we are the sending institution we will investigate your claim and will notify you in writing as to the outcome of our investigations into a reported mistaken internet payment within 30 business days of you making the report.

If we think you may be the sender or a recipient of a mistaken internet payment (including because you or a financial institution tells us that you are), you must give us the information we reasonably request by the time we reasonably request it, so we can work out if it was a mistaken internet payment.

If the sending institution is not satisfied that a mistaken internet payment has occurred the sending institution is not required to take any further action. If the sending institution is satisfied that a mistaken internet payment has occurred it must contact the receiving institution.

If the unintended recipient of the mistaken internet payment is receiving income support payments from Centrelink, the receiving institution must recover the funds from that recipient in accordance with the Code of Operation for Centrelink Direct Credit Payments.

3.5.2 Where sufficient funds are available in the unintended recipient's account

Provided there are sufficient funds available in the unintended recipient's account to the value of the mistaken internet payment, the process that will apply will depend upon when the mistaken internet payment was reported.

| When the report is made... | Process |
|--|--|
| within 10 business days of the payment | If the receiving institution is satisfied that a mistaken internet payment has occurred, it will return the funds to the sending institution within 5 business days of the request or such longer period it reasonably requires up to a maximum of 10 business days. |

| When the report is made... | Process |
|--|---|
| between 10 business days and 7 months of the payment | The receiving institution must complete its investigation into the mistaken internet payment within 10 business days of receiving a request. If the receiving institution is satisfied that a mistaken internet payment has occurred, it will prevent the unintended recipient from withdrawing the funds for a further 10 business days and notify the unintended recipient that the receiving institution will withdraw the funds from their account if the unintended recipient does not establish they are entitled to the funds within that 10 day period. If the unintended recipient does not establish they are entitled to the funds within that time, the receiving institution will return the funds to the sending institution within 2 business days of the end of that period. |

| When the report is made... | Process |
|--------------------------------------|---|
| more than 7 months after the payment | If the receiving institution is satisfied a mistaken internet payment occurred, it must seek the consent of the unintended recipient to return the funds. |

If the receiving institution is not satisfied that a mistaken internet payment has occurred, it may (but is not required to) seek the consent of the unintended recipient to return the funds.

The sending institution will return the funds returned to it on account of a mistaken internet payment to the holder as soon as practicable.

3.5.3 Where sufficient funds are not available

Where the sending institution and the receiving institution are satisfied that a mistaken internet payment has occurred but there are not sufficient funds in the unintended recipient's account to the full value of the mistaken internet payment, the receiving institution will use reasonable endeavours to retrieve the funds from the unintended recipient.

3.5.4 What do we do when you receive a mistaken internet payment

If both we and the sending institution are satisfied that a payment made to your account is a mistaken internet payment and there are sufficient funds in your account, we will, without your consent, deduct from your account the amount of that mistaken internet payment and send it to the payer's financial institution (in accordance with the ePayments Code):

- if the mistaken internet payment is reported 7 months or less after the payment; or
- if the mistaken internet payment is reported between 10 business days and 7 months of the payment, if you do not establish that you are entitled to the payment within the relevant 10 business day period referred to above.

We can also prevent you from withdrawing funds that are the subject of a mistaken internet payment.

3.5.5 Our liability to you arising from mistaken internet payments

You must take care to ensure that internet payment details are correct. If we recover funds on your behalf in respect of a mistaken internet payment from an unintended recipient, we will credit them to your account in accordance with these terms and conditions. However, we otherwise will not be liable to you for any payment made in accordance with details you provided.

3.6 Cancelling or suspending your access to our digital services or Citiphone

3.6.1 When you may cancel access

You may cancel your access to our digital services or Citiphone at any time by calling the Customer Service Centre team. It may take time for us to process the cancellation and it will only take effect once it is processed by us. An account holder may also cancel the access of an additional signatory at any time by calling the Customer Service Centre team.

3.6.2 When we may cancel or suspend by giving you notice

We may, acting reasonably, cancel or suspend your access to our digital services or Citiphone at any time by providing you with 30 days' prior notice.

3.6.3 When we may cancel or suspend your access without prior notice

In some circumstances, we may also cancel or suspend your access to our digital services or Citiphone at any time or cancel a security code, without prior notice where we, acting fairly and reasonably towards you, reasonably believe or suspect any of the following:

- circumstances beyond our control mean that we could not meet our obligations under these terms and conditions;
- we should do so to ensure we comply with any law, rule, regulation, judgment order or directive of any government;

- a security code or a process intended to prevent unauthorised transactions has been compromised or there are other security reasons for doing so;
- you have, or may be, involved in a fraudulent or other unlawful activity or transaction; or
- it is otherwise reasonably necessary or appropriate to manage our legal, credit or reputational risk or to prevent losses.

If we do not give you notice before we do any of these things, we will notify you as soon as possible afterwards. In all cases where we cancel or suspend your access, we will act fairly and reasonably towards you.

3.6.4 Where your access is cancelled or suspended

If your access to our digital services or Citiphone or a security code is cancelled or suspended, we may refuse any transaction that has been initiated through those services or using that security code.

4. Security and liability

4.1 Security of the debit cards, security codes and devices

You must keep security codes secret and take all reasonable steps to protect their security.

If you make a record of your security code you will need to take all reasonable steps to prevent unauthorised access to the record or ensure the record is reasonably disguised.

4.1.1 Protecting the debit card and security codes

Things that are not reasonable attempts to disguise the security code include:

- recording the security code in reverse order or as a series of numbers with any mark to indicate the security code;
- recording the security code either within a telephone number in the correct order or where no other telephone numbers are recorded; or
- recording the security code as a date or amount.

Other forms of disguise may also not be a reasonable attempt because of the ease another person can work out the security code.

If you have selected your own security code, you should try to change it at regular intervals (say, every two years).

If you do not comply with these security measures, you may be liable for any Unauthorised EFT Transactions. See the 'Liability for Unauthorised EFT Transactions' section below.

4.1.2 Protecting devices

You must take all reasonable steps to safeguard any device and to protect it from loss, theft or unauthorised use.

4.1.3 What you must do if you suspect a breach of security of the debit card, security code or device or an unauthorised transaction has occurred

If you suspect any of the following has or may have occurred:

- the security of any security code may have or has been breached;
- a debit card or security code may have or has been lost, stolen or misused;
- a device may have, or has, been lost, stolen or misused; or
- an unauthorised transaction may have or has occurred you must tell us as soon as possible by calling the Customer Service Centre team on:

13 24 84 (within Australia); or +61 2 8225 0615 (from outside Australia).

We will give you the notification number or some other form of acknowledgement which you should retain as evidence of the date or time of your report of a suspected breach.

In the event that our notification facilities are not available for any reason, you will not be liable for any losses which occur while you are unable to notify us, provided that you do notify us within a reasonable time after the notification facilities become available again.

Where a debit card, security code, device or identifier has been cancelled, it must not be used again even if it is later found.

If you don't inform us about the loss, theft or misuse of your debit card, security code or device you may be liable for the transactions before you contacted us, even if they were made without your authority.

4.2 Liability for Unauthorised EFT Transactions

Liability for losses resulting from Unauthorised EFT Transactions will be determined by us in accordance with the ePayments Code where that code applies to the transaction.

If you are not liable for the losses resulting from an Unauthorised EFT Transaction, we will credit the amount of the Unauthorised EFT Transaction to the account.

| You will not be liable for losses where... | You will be liable for losses where... |
|--|--|
| It is clear that you or an authorised signatory have not contributed to the loss | The Unauthorised EFT Transaction was carried out by you, an authorised signatory or by another person with the knowledge and consent of you or any authorised signatory. |

| You will not be liable for losses where... | You will be liable for losses where... |
|---|---|
| The Unauthorised EFT Transaction: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> is caused by the fraudulent or negligent conduct of our employees, third parties involved in networking arrangements or a merchant or their employee or agent; or is made with a debit card, security code or with any other device or identifier which is forged, faulty, expired or cancelled; or required the use of a debit card or other device and/or a security code and which occurred before you or any authorised signatory received the debit card, device or security code; or is the result of the same transaction being incorrectly debited more than once to the same account; | They result from Unauthorised EFT Transactions caused by you or the authorised signatory: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> engaging in fraud; or voluntarily disclosing any of their security codes to anyone, including a family member or friend; or keeping an undisguised record of a security code, creating a security code identifiable with you or the authorised signatory (like their name or date of birth) or otherwise not complying with the security code security requirements (such as those set out in the 'What you must not do' section above); or leaving a debit card in an ATM (provided the ATM incorporates reasonable safety standards that mitigate the risk of a debit card being left in the ATM). |

| You will not be liable for losses where... | You will be liable for losses where... |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> required the use of a debit card or other device and/or security code and which happened after we were notified that the debit card, security code or device had been misused, lost or stolen, or that the security of the security code had been breached; or was an electronic transaction able to be made using an identifier without a debit card, security code or other device; or was an electronic transaction which was able to be made using a debit card or device, or a debit card or device and an identifier, but which did not require a security code, provided you did not unreasonably delay in reporting the loss or theft of the device. | |

You will also be liable for actual losses resulting from Unauthorised EFT Transactions caused by you or the authorised signatory unreasonably delaying notifying us of the misuse, loss or theft of their debit card, security code or other device, or that the security of their security code(s) has been breached.

Your liability in this case will only extend to losses which occur between the time when you or the authorised signatory became aware (or should reasonably have become aware) of such misuse, loss or theft or security breach and when we were actually notified.

However, you will not be liable for:

- that portion of the losses incurred on any one day or any period that exceeds any applicable transaction limit;
- that portion of the losses incurred which exceed the balance of your account(s), including any prearranged credit;
- losses incurred on any account(s) which we and the account holder had not agreed could be accessed using the debit card or other device and/or security code used to perform the transaction; or
- losses occurring after we have been notified that a debit card or other device or security code that has been issued has been misused, lost or stolen or that the security of the security code has been breached.

If more than one security code is required to perform a transaction and we prove that you or an authorised signatory breached the security requirements for one or more, but not all, of those security codes, you will be liable under this 'Liability for Unauthorised EFT Transactions' section only if we also prove, on the balance of probabilities, that the breach of the security requirements was more than 50% responsible for the losses when assessed together with all the contributing causes.

Otherwise, where a security code was required to perform the Unauthorised EFT Transaction and none of the circumstances set out above apply, you will only be liable to a limited extent. Your liability in such cases will be the least of:

- $150 Australian dollars, or a lower figure determined by us;
- the balance of the account(s) which can be accessed using the debit card or security code, including any prearranged credit; or
- the actual loss at the time we are notified of the misuse, loss or theft of the debit card or of the security code(s) becoming known to someone else (excluding that portion of the loss incurred on any one day which exceeds the applicable daily transaction limit).

4.3 Liability in relation to BPAY® payments

Please refer to 'Liability for BPAY® payments' in section 5 of these terms and conditions.

4.4 Liability for all other transactions and amounts

4.4.1 When you are liable

You will be liable for all other transactions and amounts charged to your account, as well as any loss suffered or incurred by you where:

- you have not provided us with complete and correct payment information, including without limitation the name, address, account number(s), and payment amounts for the payee;
- you did not correctly use any electronic equipment including our digital services or Citiphone; or
- you do not have sufficient funds in your account to make a funds transfer or payment;
- transactions have been delayed, blocked, frozen or refused where we have reasonable grounds to believe that they breach Australian law or sanctions (or the law or sanctions of any other country);
- an order or court directs us to prohibit funds transfers or payments from the relevant account;
- your account is closed or your account (or any funds in it) has been suspended; or
- circumstances beyond our reasonable control prevent the funds transfer or payment, despite reasonable precautions taken by us.

Subject to these terms and conditions, our liability is limited to the conditions and warranties that are imposed on us by laws such as the Australian Consumer Law. These laws may allow us to exclude liability if you acquire services as part of a business. To the extent permitted by law, we exclude liability under implied statutory conditions and warranties, or limit our liability under such warranties and conditions to supplying the services again or paying the costs of that resupply. This does not limit your right to raise a dispute.

5. BPAY®

5.1 BPAY® terms and conditions

The terms and conditions set out in this section 5 apply when you make a payment through the BPAY® Scheme. Not all accounts allow payments to be made through the BPAY® Scheme. If there is any inconsistency between these BPAY® terms and conditions and any other terms of this document or the Account Terms, then these BPAY® terms and conditions apply to the extent of any inconsistency.

5.2 BPAY® Scheme

We are a member of the BPAY® Scheme. We will notify you if we cease to be a member of the BPAY® Scheme.

5.3 BPAY® payments

BPAY® is available through our digital services and Citiphone. BPAY® payments count towards your daily transfer limit. For details about our daily transfer limits, see the 'Daily transfer limits that apply' section of these terms and conditions.

5.4 Making a payment

When you ask us to make a payment through BPAY®, you will need the following details:

- the Biller Code and your customer reference number (this can be found on your bill near the BPAY® logo, as set out below);
- the details of the account you want us to debit the payment from; and
- the amount of the payment you wish to make.

If any of the above information is missing or incorrect then we won't be able to make the BPAY® payment. When you make the payment, we will debit your nominated account with the amount you specify. The details of the BPAY® payment, including a receipt number, will appear on your statement.

5.5 What if the payment can't be processed by the biller?

If we are advised that your payment cannot be processed by the biller, we will let you know and credit your account with the amount of the attempted BPAY® payment.

5.6 BPAY® cut-off times

Billers who participate in the BPAY® Scheme will treat BPAY® payments you make as received by the biller as follows:

| When you instruct us: | The payment will be treated as being made: |
|----------------------------------|--|
| Before 4.00 pm on a business day | On the date that you make the payment |
| After 4.00 pm on a business day | On the next business day |
| On a non-business day | |

A delay may occur in processing a BPAY® payment where:

- there is a public or bank holiday on the day after you tell us to make a BPAY® payment;
- you tell us to make a BPAY® payment after the cut-off times referred to above; or
- another participant in the BPAY® Scheme does not comply with its obligations.

5.7 Scheduled BPAY® payments

If your account allows it, you can schedule a BPAY® payment to be made up to two years in advance. This can be a one-off payment or it can be a recurring payment. If the date you select for a scheduled BPAY® payment is not a business day, your BPAY® payment may be delayed as described above.

If, the day before the scheduled BPAY® payment is due to be made, your available balance is lower than the amount of the scheduled BPAY® payment, we may:

- decline to make the payment; or
- use our discretion to honour the payment.

A scheduled BPAY® payment may not be able to be made for a number of reasons, including if the biller no longer participates in the BPAY® Scheme. If we aren't able to make a BPAY® payment at the nominated future payment date we will let you know.

5.8 Stopping or altering BPAY® payments

You should notify us immediately if you become aware that you may have made a mistake when instructing us to make a BPAY® payment or if you did not authorise a BPAY® payment that has been made from your account.

If you make a BPAY® payment and then you realise that the payment amount you stated is:

- more than the required amount, you will need to contact the biller to obtain a refund;
- less than the required amount, you can make another BPAY® payment to make up the difference.

If you want to stop or alter a scheduled BPAY® payment, you will need to contact us at least 2 business days before the day the payment is due to be made.

Otherwise, we cannot stop any BPAY® payment which is not a scheduled BPAY® payment once you have instructed us to make the BPAY® payment.

5.9 Liability for BPAY® payments

We will attempt to correct any mistaken or unauthorised BPAY® payments. If the ePayments Code applies to an unauthorised or fraudulent BPAY® transaction, your liability for that transaction will be limited to the lesser of:

- the amount of that unauthorised or fraudulent payment; and
- the limit (if any) of your liability set out in your Account Terms. In that case, we will be liable to you for the difference between the amount for which you are liable and the amount of the unauthorised or fraudulent payment.

We will not be liable for any loss or damage you suffer as a result of using the BPAY® Scheme, other than as set out in the table below (and subject to the ePayments Code).

Disputes with billers about any goods or services from the biller must be resolved with the biller and no refunds will be provided through the BPAY® Scheme where there is such a dispute. No “chargeback” rights will be available under the BPAY® Scheme rules (even if you made the BPAY® payment using a debit card).

You should check your statements carefully and promptly report to us as soon as you become aware of any BPAY® payments that you think are errors or which you did not authorise. The longer the delay between when you tell us of the error and the date of your BPAY® payment, the more difficult it may be to perform the error correction. For example, we or the biller may not have sufficient records or information available to us to investigate the error. If this is the case, you may need to demonstrate that an error has occurred, based on your own records, or liaise directly with the biller to correct the error.

| If a BPAY® payment has been made... | What does this mean for you |

6. Cheques

6.1 Cheque access

Cheque access is only available for existing eligible accounts with cheques from previously issued cheque books. A new cheque book cannot be requested and cheque access is otherwise not available on any account.

6.2 Depositing cheques

You can make cheque deposits in Australian dollars into your account by mailing the cheque to us. Cheques sent by mail must be in the name of the account holder followed by your account number. We do not accept cheques made out to cash. To send your cheque by mail, simply post it together with either a deposit slip or letter advising the account details to deposit the cheque to:

GPO Box 40, Sydney NSW 2001

For more information on depositing cheques, please visit citibank.com.au.

6.3 Things you should know about writing cheques

A few simple precautions can reduce the risk of a cheque being changed in an unauthorised way. Set out below are some of the questions you may have about how to reduce your risk and some further information about cheques that you should know.

| Common questions | Explanation |
|--|--|
| Should I sign a blank cheque? | No. Never sign a blank cheque. |
| Can I use pen or pencil? | Always use a pen in blue or black ink. Never use a pencil. |
| Is how I write down the amount important? | Yes. Where the amount does not include any cents, write 'only' after the amount. For example, if the cheque is for $50 and no cents, write '$50 only' as the amount. |
| What should I do if there is unused space on the cheque? | Don't leave gaps between words or figures. Fill the unused space with a horizontal line. |

| Common questions | Explanation |
|---|---|
| What if I make a mistake and want to make a change to the cheque? | Depending on what the mistake is, it may be best to destroy the cheque and write a new cheque. However, if you do want to make a change or alter the cheque, make sure you put your initials next to any change you make so that we know you have authorised the change. |
| Is the cheque 'stub' important? | Yes, by filling in the cheque stub you will have a record of who the cheque was made out to and how much it was for. Make sure you check your statement and tell us immediately if your statement is different to the details you have recorded in your cheque stub. You can do this by using the contact details located at citibank.com.au/contactus . |
| Other things I need to do when writing a cheque? | Make sure your handwriting is legible and that everything written in the cheque is correct. This includes the amounts which you have written in words and figures. Always make sure that you sign and date the cheque. |
| What does 'crossing' a cheque mean? | Crossing a cheque means drawing two parallel lines across the face of the cheque from top to bottom. When you cross a cheque you are instructing us to credit the cheque to a bank account, not cash it over the counter. If a bank does cash a crossed cheque it may be liable for any loss suffered by the true owner. |

| Common questions | Explanation |
|----------------------------------|--|
| What is an open cheque? | An open cheque is a cheque that has not been crossed (meaning it does not have two parallel lines across it). This is an instruction to us to pay anyone who presents the cheque (assuming that the cheque is a 'bearer' cheque - discussed below) where the drawer's account is held, rather than requiring the cheque to be deposited into the account. This means that if the cheque was lost and presented for payment by the person who found it, we would not normally be responsible for reimbursing the money to the drawer. You should always make your instructions clear. |
| What does 'not negotiable' mean? | A cheque is a negotiable instrument, meaning it can be passed from one person to another. When the words 'not negotiable' are written in the crossing across the face of a cheque, they protect the true owner should the cheque be lost or stolen. Anyone who accepts a lost or stolen 'not negotiable' cheque has no better right or title to the cheque than the finder or the thief, and may be liable to refund the amount of the cheque to the true owner. |

| Common questions | Explanation |
|---|--|
| What do the words 'account payee only' mean? | If you write 'account payee only' on a crossed cheque, you are instructing us that you want the cheque to be paid into the account of the person you have named on it. |
| What is the significance of deleting the words 'or bearer' from a cheque? | If an uncrossed cheque without 'not negotiable' written on it has the words 'or bearer' at the end of the line where you write the name of the person to be paid, we will have to pay the proceeds to anyone who presents the cheque. If you cross out 'or bearer', we must only pay the proceeds to the person whose name is on the cheque, or as that person directs. If you insert the words, 'to the order of' in front of the name of the payee (whether or not you also cross out 'or bearer') on an uncrossed cheque, we will only pay the proceeds to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. the named payee; or 2. any other person to whom the named payee has ordered it to be paid by endorsing the cheque. |

6.4 Bank cheques

Customers with an existing account held with us may purchase bank cheques from us. To request a bank cheque, please visit citibank.com.au.

6.5 Clearing a cheque and special clearance

You will generally be able to draw on funds deposited by cheque after 3 business days. In some instances this can take up to 7 business days from the day of deposit.

In some cases, you may request a valid cheque to be cleared in less than the usual time by requesting a special clearance. To find out if a special clearance is available or to make a request, you need to contact us by calling the Customer Service Centre team before you deposit your cheque. For more information, please visit citibank.com.au/deposits-transfers.

6.6 How and when can you stop a cheque

You may stop a cheque that you have written or stop payment on all cheques contained within a cheque book by calling the Customer Service Centre team, provided the cheque that is being stopped has not yet been presented. You should also tell the person to whom the cheque is payable that it has been stopped. If your cheque facility is cancelled you must promptly destroy your chequebook.

6.7 When can a cheque be dishonoured?

There are a number of reasons why a cheque may be dishonoured, some of which are:

- the cheque requires more than one signatory;
- there are insufficient cleared funds in the account of the drawer (the person who signed the cheque) to cover the amount written on the cheque;
- the cheque is unsigned;
- the cheque is stale, meaning it is more than 15 months old;
- the cheque has been materially altered and the alteration has not been properly signed or initialled;
- your cheque facility has been cancelled;
- there is a legal impediment to payment; or
- the cheque has been stopped by the drawer.

Dating a cheque with a date after the day on which the cheque is drawn is called "post-dating" the cheque. This does not invalidate the cheque. However, the cheque must only be presented on or after the date which appears on the cheque.

6.8 Loss, theft or unauthorised use

You are responsible for the safe custody of your cheque book and any unused cheque forms and you must exercise due care to prevent them from being lost, stolen or used without your authorisation.

If a cheque, or your cheque book, is lost or stolen or there has been unauthorised use of a cheque or cheque book, you must notify us as soon as possible by calling the Customer Service Centre team so that we can stop payment on a cheque or place a stop on the relevant cheque numbers straight away.

If you subsequently find the cheques, we will require written authorisation from you before the cheques can be used.

If you don't inform us that your cheque or cheque book has been lost or stolen or there has been unauthorised use as soon as possible, you may be liable for the transactions which occurred before you contacted us, even if they were made without your authority.

7.2 Electronic equipment

7.2.1 Use and availability of electronic equipment

Merchants and ATM providers decide what types of transactions are available with their electronic equipment. That may not be the same as the transactions available through our electronic equipment.

Our promotional material displayed on any premises shall not be taken as a representation or warranty by us or the merchant that all goods or services offered by the merchant may be purchased by the use of any of those facilities.

7.2.2 What happens if the electronic equipment does not work?

We will be responsible to the account holder for any loss which is caused because the electronic equipment accepts your instructions but fails to carry out the transaction requested. However, if you should have been reasonably aware that the electronic equipment was not operating properly, we will only be responsible for correcting the relevant account and refunding any fees or charges.

We will not be responsible if the electronic equipment does not accept your instructions or the debit card or any security code fails to work in the relevant electronic equipment.

That does not affect the condition as it applies in another jurisdiction.
